Lots of rain, but wheat harvest is moving along anyway. Corn looks fine, but because of the backwardness of the season, it is not as large as it ought to be.

Politics is the subject of general discussion these days here in town.

BOLIVAR.

Obituary.

Jacob W. Hahn, one of our oldest Bollinger county citizens let us on June 22, to fight the various battles of life alone. To meet and satisfy the demands of the day, and to bear the responsibilities which he has thrown off so he may attain greater and nobler things.

Mr. Hahn has been counted a member of society and activity of Bollinger county ever since he was born December 5, 1849. Perhaps the only man of his age who was born and lived within a radius of a mile all of his life.

His wife, Miss Willie O. Lutes, was also born and reared in Bollinger county. Mr. Hahn and Miss Lutes were united in the holy bonds of matrimony October 28, 1875.

Their life of happiness encompassed about 37 years of service to themselves and their fellow creatures.

All who knew Mr. Hahn saw in him the incarnation of enterprise and straight-forwardness. He was a man of action more than one of words. After all is said and done that is what counts for most in life anyway.

Those who mourn his departure are a devoted wife, family, brother and sister and a host of friends.

He is gone to come back no more.
Yea he has forded the dark river of death, and today is shouting the praises to the "king of kings," and is beckoning us to the land of rest which was planned and completed for the weary and heartsick children of men.

W. E. SAVILLE, Pastor.

"I promise from this time forward to try to forgive my friends as well as my enemies, I promise to remember that I have not really done all the good things that have happened in my lifetime. I promise to believe that there are many things that young men can do better than I. I promise to be more severe against the sins of age than against the faults of youth. Mindful of the manifold of the temptations that beset the mature, I promise as much as in me lies, to endeavor not to talk too much. I promise to be thankful for all the good of this world, and yet to live in the faith that sometime and some where I shall find a better world.—Dr. Samuel G. Smith, on his sixtieth birthday.

If the wound is cleansed and the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from leaves no scar. If the wound

Perfect Your Title

It frequently happens that a man spends a lifetime developing a farm and at his death his heirs are compelled to spend hundreds of dollars for lawyers and costs to keep from being evicted. If the title had been looked after during the life of the parent this trouble and cost could have been saved. It will cost you only a few dollars to have us make you an abstract that will show any defects in your title.

Our certificate is a guarantee

TRINITY'S ONLY BIBLE PROP A FORGERY.

Interpolated Parts Expunged In Revised Version Bible.

Pastor Russell, in Remarkable Discourse, Points Out That After All, the Spurious Words Really Make Nonsense—Directs Attention to the Scriptures.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Syracuse, N. Y., June 30.—In one of Pastor Russell's discourses here today he spoke from this text: "To us there is, but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in Him; and one
Lord Jesus Christ,
by whom are all things, and we by Him."—1 Corinthians viii. 6.

Pastor Russell declared that for centuries Christians have been overlooking the real doctrine of the Trinity, set forth in the Bible, and have been perplexing their minds in an endeavor to believe and understand the mysterious theory of the creeds on the subject, which so persistently ignores the laws of mathematics, by declaring that three are one, or at times varying the declaration and asserting that one is three.

Any one questioning this fabulous statement, even to the extent of asking an explanation, was branded a heretic and assured that the matter is a mystery which cannot be understood, but that if denied the penalty would be eternal torture; and in numerous instances zealous persons had anticipated the torture by burning the inquirer at the stake, as, for instance, was done by our good brother John Calvin to Servetus.

Doctrine of Trinity Traced.
There is no unfeigned mystery connected with the doctrine of the Trinity as presented in the Bible, said Pastor Russell. On the contrary, it is very simple, very reasonable, and very honoring to God the Father, Jesus the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

The Pastor traced the doctrine of the Trinity, as presented in the creeds, to its source. It was not the teachings of Jesus and the inspired Apostles, and surely not the belief of the Israelites, and those who for more than four thousand years had been God's people before Jesus' day. After the death of the Apostles, the Bishops erroneously claimed to be their successors vested with Apostolic authority, and these formulated the creeds with their various inconsistencies and Bible contradictions.

The Trinity of the creeds was introduced to offset the agnostic influences of the Greeks, who became interested in Christianity as a philosophy, and who denied its teachings respecting the prehuman existence of Jesus, the necessity for His death as a sin-atonement, and the doctrine of the resurrection.

In proportion as the Greeks denied many Christians would combat their theory, and they advanced claim after claim until they reached the climax represented in our creeds of declaring that Jesus was His own Father and His own Son at the same time, that one God, equal in power and glory, prayed to the other part of Himself with strong cryings and tears to be delivered from the power of the tomb, was heard and was raised from the dead by the power of the other part of Himself.

Indeed, said the Pastor, some have carried the matter so far as to claim that when Jesus died the world was for three days without a God, that He then raised Himself from the dead.
Others, considering this an unreasonable view, claimed that Jesus never really died, but merely pretended to die—that all of the experiences of the cross were a mere farce, a pantomime, performed for the effect upon the people—that merely the body of Jesus died after crying, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" and that the real Jesus, the real God, stepped out and watched the proceedings and connived at the deception, including the further deception respecting the resurrection from the dead.

All of this must be abominable to the Father. All Christians are perplexed with this man-made mystery.
Now, as Bible students are waking and are studying the Bible, they find that its teachings are very different from that of the creeds, that it is very real, very logical, very beautiful, very harmonious.

Trinity Supported by Forgery.

Before we come to the examination of the Bible's testimony respecting the Trinity, I remind you that the word "Trinity" does not occur in the English Bible from Genesis to Revelation, and that no passage approximating such teaching is found there, except one, and that one is an interpolation, as all scholars, including Trinitarians, admit. The Revised Version expunges the additions (evidently added about the seventh century), because they are not found in any manuscripts of earlier date.

The spurious passage is found in St.
John's first Epistle, 5:7. Those sufficiently interested will read the passage in its proper form in the Revised Version, and we ask them to note that the additional words of the forgery really make nonsense, in that they tell us that the Father and the Son
